Important Change

Increased self-employed health insurance deduction. The self-employed health insurance deduction increased from 40% to 45% of the cost of the insurance. See Health insurance costs of self-employed ministers.

Introduction

Social security and Medicare taxes are collected under two systems. Under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA), the employee and the employer each pay half of the taxes. Under the Self-Employment Contributions Act (SECA), the self-employed person pays all the taxes. No earnings are subject to both systems.

This publication covers several issues relating to the collection of social security and Medicare taxes from members of the clergy and religious workers, including:

- Which earnings are taxed under FICA and which under SECA,
- How to figure net earnings from self-employment, and
- How a member of the clergy (minister, member of religious order, or Christian Science practitioner) can apply for an exemption from self-employment tax.

This publication also covers certain income tax rules of interest to the clergy.

A comprehensive example with filled-in forms, showing a minister having income that is taxed under FICA and other income that is taxed under SECA, is at the end of this publication.

Note. In this publication the term "church" is generally used in its generic sense and not in reference to any particular religion.

Social Security Coverage

The services you perform in the exercise of your ministry are covered by social security and Medicare under SECA. Your earnings for these services are subject to self-employment tax (SE tax) unless one of the following applies.

- 1) You are a member of a religious order who has taken a vow of poverty.
- 2) You request and receive from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) an exemption from SE tax for the services. See Exemption From Self-Employment (SE) Tax, later.
- 3) You are subject only to the social security laws of a foreign country under the provisions of a social security agreement between the United States and that country. For more information, see Binational Social Security (Totalization) Agreements in Publication 54, Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad.

Your earnings that are not from the exercise of your ministry may be subject to social security tax under FICA or SECA according to the rules that apply to taxpayers in general. See Qualified Services, later.

Ministers

If you are a minister of a church, your earnings for the services you perform in your capacity as a minister are subject to SE tax unless you have requested and received an exemption. See Exemption From Self-Employment (SE) Tax, later. This is true whether you are an employee of your church or a self-employed person under the common law rules. For the specific services covered, see Qualified Services, later.

Ministers Defined

Ministers are individuals who are duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed by a religious body constituting a church or church denomination. They are given the authority to conduct religious worship, perform sacerdotal functions, and administer ordinances or sacraments according to the prescribed tenets and practices of that church or denomination.

If a church or denomination ordains some ministers and licenses or commissions others, anyone licensed or commissioned must be able to perform substantially all the religious functions of an ordained minister to be treated as a minister for social security purposes.

Employment Status for Other Tax Purposes

Even though you are considered a self-employed individual in performing your ministerial services for social security tax purposes, you may be considered an employee for income or retirement plan tax purposes. Some of your income may be considered income from self-employment and other income may be considered income from wages.

Common-law employee. Under common law rules, you are considered an employee or a self-employed person depending on all the facts and circumstances. Generally, you are an employee if your employer has the legal right to control both what you do and how you do it, even if you have considerable discretion and freedom of action. For more information about the common-law rules, get Publication 15-A, Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide.

If you are employed by a congregation for a salary, you are generally a common-law employee and income from the exercise of your ministry is considered income from wages for income tax purposes. However, amounts received directly from members of the congregation, such as fees for performing marriages, baptisms, or other personal services, are considered income from self-employment.

Example. A church hires and pays you a salary to perform ministerial services subject to its control. Under the common law rules, you are an employee of the church while performing those services.

Form SS-8. If you are not certain whether you are an employee or a self-employed person, you can get a determination from the IRS by filing Form SS-8.

Members of Religious Orders

If you are a member of a religious order who has not taken a vow of poverty, your earnings for required services you performed as a member of the order are subject to SE tax. This does not apply if you have requested and received an exemption as discussed under Exemption From Self-Employment (SE) Tax, later. To see which services are considered required, see Qualified Services, later.

Vow of poverty. If you are a member of a religious order who has taken a vow of poverty, you are exempt from paying SE tax on your earnings for required services you perform as an agent of your church or its agencies. For income tax purposes, the earnings are tax free to you. Your earnings are considered the income of the religious order.

Exception. Even if you have taken a vow of poverty, the services you perform for your church or its agencies may be covered under social security. Your services are covered if your order, or an autonomous subdivision of the order, elects social security coverage for its current and future vow-of-poverty members.

The order or subdivision elects coverage by filing Form SS-16. It can elect coverage for certain vow-of-poverty members for a retroactive period of up to 20 calendar quarters before the quarter in which it files the certificate.

Services performed outside the order. Even if you are a member of a religious order who has taken a vow of poverty and is required to turn over to the order amounts you earn, your earnings are subject to federal income tax withholding and employment (FICA) tax if you:

- 1) Work for an organization outside your religious community, and
- 2) Perform work that is not required by, or done on behalf of, the order.

In this case, you are considered an employee of that outside organization. You may, however, be able to take a charitable deduction for the amount you turn over to the order. See Publication 526, Charitable Contributions.

Lay employees. Lay employees are generally covered by social security. But see Election to Exclude Employees From FICA Coverage, later, under Religious Workers.

Rulings. Organizations and individuals may request rulings from the IRS on whether they are religious orders, or members of a religious order, for FICA tax, SE tax, and federal income tax withholding purposes. To request a ruling, follow the procedures in Revenue Procedure 99-1, which is published in the 1999-1 Internal Revenue Bulletin.

You can read this Revenue Procedure at most IRS offices or purchase a copy of the Bulletin by writing to:

Superintendent of Documents
U.S. Government Printing Office
P.O. Box 371954
Pittsburgh, PA 15250-7954.

Christian Science Practitioners and Readers

Your earnings from services you performed in your profession as a Christian Science practitioner or reader are generally subject to SE tax. However, you can request an exemption as discussed under Exemption From Self-Employment (SE) Tax, later.

Practitioners. Christian Science practitioners are members in good standing of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, who practice healing according to the teachings of Christian Science. Christian Science practitioners are specifically exempted from licensing by state laws.

Some Christian Science practitioners also are Christian Science teachers or lecturers. Income from teaching or lecturing is considered the same as income from their work as practitioners.

Readers. Christian Science readers are considered the same as ordained, commissioned, or licensed ministers.

Religious Workers (Employees)

If you are a religious worker (an employee) and are not in one of the classes already discussed, your wages are generally subject to social security and Medicare tax (FICA) and not to SE tax. Some exceptions are discussed next.

Election to Exclude Employees From FICA Coverage

Churches and qualified church-controlled organizations (church organizations) can elect not to have their employees covered by FICA. To make the election, the church or church organization must certify to the IRS that, for religious reasons, it is opposed to paying employment taxes.

Making the election. To make this election, churches and church organizations file two copies of Form 8274, Certification by Churches and Qualified Church-Controlled Organizations Electing Exemption From Employer Social Security and Medicare Taxes. They file this after employees are hired, but before the first date on which a quarterly employment tax return is due (or would be due except for this election).

Revoking the election. The church or church organization can revoke this election. The revocation cannot be later reversed. Also, the IRS can revoke the election if certain filing requirements for information returns are not met.

Effect of election on employees. If you are an employee (other than a minister or member of a religious order) of a church or church organization that makes this election and they pay you $108.28 or more in wages, you must pay SE tax on those wages.

When figuring your SE income, do not reduce these wages (earnings) by any deductions and do not reduce any other SE income by any deduction related to these wages.

Election by Employees of Churches, etc., Who Choose Not To Pay Social Security Taxes

You may be able to choose to be exempt from social security and Medicare taxes, including the SE tax, if you work for a church (or church-controlled non-profit division) that does not pay the employer's part of the social security tax on wages. You can make the choice if you are a member of a religious sect or division opposed to social security and Medicare. This exemption does not apply to your service, if any, as a minister of a church or as a member of a religious order.

You can make this choice by filing Form 4029. See Requesting Exemption — Form 4029, later, under Members of Recognized Religious Sects.

Employee and employer opposed to social security and Medicare participation. If you and your employer (or, if your employer is a partnership, each partner) are members of a religious sect or division opposed to social security and Medicare participation, you each can apply for exemption from the social security and Medicare taxes imposed on wages. See Exemption From FICA Taxes, later under Members of Recognized Religious Sects.

U.S. Citizens, Resident and Nonresident Aliens

To be covered under the SE tax provisions (SECA), individuals generally must be citizens or resident aliens of the United States. Nonresident aliens are not covered under SECA.

To determine your alien status, see Publication 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens.

Residents of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa. Residents of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa, who are not U.S. citizens, are treated the same as citizens or resident aliens of the United States for SE tax purposes. For information on figuring the tax, see Figuring Net Earnings From Self-Employment for SE Tax, later.

Exemption From Self-Employment (SE) Tax

Members of religious orders who have not taken a vow of poverty, ministers, and Christian Science practitioners can request an exemption from SE tax.

Members of a recognized religious sect or a division of it can also apply for an exemption from the SE tax. For the rules that apply to this exemption, see Members of Recognized Religious Sects, later.

TIP Members of religious orders who have taken a vow of poverty are exempt from paying SE tax, as discussed earlier under Members of Religious Orders. They do not have to request the exemption.

Who cannot be exempt? If you elected before 1968 to be covered under social security for your ministerial services, you are still covered. You cannot be exempt from SE tax.

If you elected to be covered by social security by filing Form 2031 for your 1986 or 1987 tax year, you cannot be exempt from SE tax.

Requesting exemption. Table 1 briefly summarizes the procedure for requesting exemption from the SE tax. More detailed explanations follow.

CAUTION An approved exemption only applies to earnings you receive for qualified services, discussed later. It does not apply to any other SE income.

Ministers, Members of Religious Orders, and Christian Science Practitioners

To claim the exemption from SE tax, you must meet all of the following conditions.

- 1) You file Form 4361, described later under Requesting exemption — Form 4361.
- 2) You are conscientiously opposed to public insurance because of your individual religious considerations (not because of your general conscience), or be opposed because of the principles of your religious denomination.

- 3) You file for other than economic reasons.
- 4) You inform the ordaining, commissioning, or licensing body of your church or order that you are opposed to public insurance if you are a minister or a member of a religious order (other than a vow-of-poverty member).
- 5) You establish that the organization that ordained, commissioned, or licensed you, or your religious order, is a tax-exempt religious organization.
- 6) You establish that the organization is a church or a convention or association of churches.
- 7) You sign and return the statement the IRS mails to you to certify that you are requesting an exemption based on the grounds listed on the statement.

Item (4) does not apply to Christian Science practitioners.

Requesting exemption— Form 4361. To request exemption from SE tax, file Form 4361 in triplicate.

Form 4361 includes a statement certifying that you oppose, for your services as a member of the clergy, public (governmental) insurance for death, disability, old age, or retirement because of your conscience or religious principles. This includes insurance that helps pay for or provide services for medical care, and includes benefits from a system established by the Social Security Act.

 The IRS will return to you a copy of the Form 4361 that you filed indicating whether your exemption has been approved. If it is approved, keep the approved copy in your permanent records.

When to file. File Form 4361 by the date your income tax return is due, including extensions, for the second tax year in which you have net earnings from self-employment of at least $400. This rule applies if any part of your net earnings for each of the two years came from your services as a:

- Minister,
- Member of a religious order, or
- Christian Science practitioner.

The two years do not have to be consecutive tax years.

 TIP Because the approval process can take some time, you should file Form 4361 as soon as possible.

Example 1. Rev. Lawrence Jaeger, a clergyman ordained in 1998, has net earnings of $450 in 1998 and $500 in 1999. He must file his application for exemption by the due date, including extensions, for his 1999 income tax return. However, if Rev. Jaeger does not receive his exemption by April 15, 1999, his SE tax for 1998 is due by that date.

Example 2. Rev. Harry Wolfe has $300 in net earnings as a clergyman in 1998, but earned more than $400 in both 1997 and 1999. He must file his application for exemption by the due date, including extensions, for his 1999 income tax return. However, if he did not receive the exemption by April 15, 1998, his SE tax for 1997 was due by that date.

Example 3. In 1996, Rev. David Moss was ordained a minister and had $700 in net earnings as a minister. In 1997, he received $1,000 as a minister, but his related expenses were over $1,000. Therefore, he had no net earnings as a minister in 1997. Also in 1997, he opened a book store and had $8,000 in net self-employment earnings from the store. In 1998, he had net earnings of $1,500 as a minister and $10,000 net SE earnings from the store.

Because Rev. Moss had net earnings from self-employment in 1996 and 1998 that were $400 or more each year, and part of the earnings in each of those years was for his services as a minister, he must file his application for exemption by the due date, including extensions, for his 1998 income tax return.

Death of individual. The right to file an application for exemption ends with an individual's death. A surviving spouse, executor, or administrator cannot file an exemption application for a deceased clergy member.

Effective date of exemption. An approved exemption is effective for all tax years after 1967 in which you have $400 or more of net earnings from self-employment and any part of the earnings is for services as a member of the clergy.

Example. Rev. Thomas Austin, ordained in 1997, had $400 or more in net earnings as a minister in both 1997 and 1998. He files an application for exemption on February 15, 1999. If an exemption is granted, it is effective for 1997 and the following years.

Refunds of SE tax. If, after receiving an approved Form 4361, you find that you overpaid SE tax, you can file a claim for refund on Form 1040X before the period of limitations ends. This is generally within 3 years from the date you filed the return or within 2 years from the date you paid the tax, whichever is later. A return you filed, or tax paid, before the due date is considered to have been filed or paid on the due date.

If you file a claim after the 3-year period but within 2 years from the time you paid the tax, the credit or refund will not be more than the tax you paid within the 2 years immediately before you file the claim.

Members of Recognized Religious Sects

If you are a member of a recognized religious sect, or a division of a recognized religious sect, you can apply for an exemption from payment of social security and Medicare taxes.

Exception. If you received social security benefits or payments, or anyone else received these benefits or payments based on your wages or SE income, you cannot apply. However, if you pay your benefits back, you may be considered for exemption. Contact your local Social Security office to find out the amount to be paid back.

Eligibility requirements. To claim this exemption from SE tax, all the following requirements must be met.

- 1) You must file Form 4029, discussed later under Requesting exemption — Form 4029.
- 2) As a follower of the established teachings of the sect or division, you must be conscientiously opposed to accepting benefits of any private or public insurance that makes payments for death, disability, old age, retirement, or medical care, or provides services for medical care.
- 3) You must waive all rights to receive any social security payment or benefit and agree that no benefits or payments will be made to anyone else based on your wages and SE income.
- 4) The Commissioner of Social Security must determine that:
 - a) Your sect or division has the established teachings as in (2) above,
 - b) It is the practice, and has been for a substantial period of time, for members of the sect or division to provide for their dependent members in a manner that is reasonable in view of the members' general level of living, and
 - c) The sect or division has existed at all times since December 31, 1950.

If you have previously received approval for exemption from SE tax, you are considered to have met the requirements and do not need to apply for this exemption.

Requesting exemption — Form 4029. To request the exemption, file Form 4029 in triplicate with the Social Security Administration at the address shown on the form. The sect or division must complete part of the form.

 The IRS will return to you a copy of the Form 4029 that you filed indicating whether your exemption has been approved. If it is approved, keep the approved copy in your permanent records.

When to file. You can file Form 4029 at any time.

Effective date of exemption. An approved exemption generally is effective for all tax years beginning after 1950. It does not apply to any tax year beginning before you meet the eligibility requirements discussed earlier.

The exemption will end if you fail to meet the eligibility requirements or if the Commissioner of Social Security determines that the sect or division fails to meet them. You must notify the IRS within 60 days if you are no longer a member of the religious group, or if you no longer follow the established teachings of this group. The exemption will end on the date you notify the IRS.

Refunds of SE tax paid. For information on requesting refunds, see Ministers, Members of Religious Orders, and Christian Science Practitioners, earlier.

Exemption From FICA Taxes

Generally, under FICA, the employer and the employee each pay half of the social security and Medicare tax. Both the employee and the employer, if they meet the eligibility requirements discussed earlier in this section, can apply to be exempt from their share of FICA taxes on wages paid by the employer to the employee.

If the employer's application is approved, the exemption will apply only to FICA taxes on wages paid to employees who also received an approval of identical applications.

Information for employers. If you have an approved Form 4029 and you have an employee who has an approved Form 4029, do not report wages you paid to the employee as social security and Medicare wages.

A partnership in which each partner holds a religious exemption from social security and Medicare is an employer for this purpose.

Form W-2. When preparing a Form W-2 for an employee with an approved Form 4029, write "Form 4029" in the box marked "Other." Do not make any entries in box 3 or 5.

Forms 941 and 943. Do not include these exempt wages on Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return, or on Form 943, Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees, if you have received an approved Form 4029.

On Form 941, write "Form 4029" to the left of the entry spaces on the lines for "Taxable social security wages," "Taxable social security tips," and "Taxable Medicare wages and tips." Check the box on line 8 to show that the wages are not subject to these taxes.

On Form 943, write "Form 4029" to the left of the entry spaces on the lines for "Total wages subject to social security taxes," and "Total wages subject to Medicare taxes."

If you have employees who do not have an approved Form 4029, you must withhold the employee's share of social security and Medicare taxes and pay the employer's share.

Effective date. An approved exemption from FICA becomes effective on the first day of the first calendar quarter after the quarter in which Form 4029 is filed. The exemption will end on the last day of the calendar quarter before the quarter in which the employer, employee, sect, or division fails to meet the requirements.

Qualified Services

Qualified services, in general, are the services you perform in the exercise of your ministry or in the exercise of your duties as required by your religious order. Income you receive for performing qualified services is subject to SE tax unless you have an exemption as explained earlier. If you have an exemption, only the income you receive for performing qualified services is exempt. The exemption does not apply to any other SE income.

The following discussions provide more detailed information on qualified services of ministers, and members of religious orders, and Christian Science practitioners and readers.

Ministers

Most services you perform as a minister, priest, rabbi, etc., are qualified services. These services include:

- 1) Performing sacerdotal functions,
- 2) Conducting religious worship, and

- 3) Controlling, conducting, and maintaining religious organizations, boards, societies, and other integral agencies that are under the authority of a religious body that is a church or denomination.

You are considered to control, conduct, and maintain a religious organization if you direct, manage, or promote the organization's activities.

A religious organization is under the authority of a religious body that is a church or denomination if it is organized for and dedicated to carrying out the principles of a faith according to the requirements governing the creation of institutions of the faith.

Services for nonreligious organizations.

Your services for a nonreligious organization are qualified services if the services are assigned or designated by your church. Assigned or designated services qualify even if they do not involve performing sacerdotal functions or conducting religious worship.

If your services are not assigned or designated by your church, they are qualified services only if they involve performing sacerdotal functions or conducting religious worship.

Services that are not part of your ministry.

Income from services that are not qualified services is generally subject to FICA (not SECA) taxes under the rules that apply to workers in general. The following are not qualified services.

- 1) Services you perform for nonreligious organizations other than the services stated earlier.
- 2) Services you perform as a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church as an employee of the United States, the District of Columbia, a foreign government, or any of their political subdivisions. This is true even if you are performing sacerdotal functions or conducting religious worship. (For example, if you perform services as a chaplain in the Armed Forces of the United States, the services are not qualified services.)
- 3) Services you perform in a government-owned and operated hospital. (These services are considered performed by a government employee, not by a minister as part of the ministry.) However, services that you perform at a church-related hospital or health and welfare institution, or a private nonprofit hospital, are considered to be part of the ministry.

Books or articles. Writing religious books or articles is considered to be in the exercise of your ministry.

This rule also applies to members of religious orders and to Christian Science practitioners.

Members of Religious Orders

Services you perform as a member of a religious order in the exercise of duties required by the order are qualified services. The services are qualified because you perform them as an agent of the order.

For example, if you are directed to perform services for another agency of the supervising church or an associated institution, you are considered to perform the services as an agent of the order.

However, if you are directed to work outside the order, the employment will not be considered a duty required by the order unless:

- Your services are the kind that are ordinarily performed by members of the order, and
- Your services are part of the duties that must be exercised for, or on behalf of, the religious order as its agent.

Effect of employee status. Ordinarily, if your services are not considered directed or required of you by the order, you and the outside party for whom you work are considered employee and employer. In this case, your earnings from the services are taxed under the rules that apply to workers in general, not under the rules for services provided as agent for the order. This is true even if you have taken a vow of poverty.

Example. Mark Brown and Elizabeth Green are members of a religious order and have taken vows of poverty. They renounce all claims to their earnings. The earnings belong to the order.

Mark is a licensed attorney. The superiors of the order instructed him to get a job with a law firm. Mark joined a law firm as an employee and, as he requested, the firm made the salary payments directly to the order.

Elizabeth is a secretary. The superiors of the order instructed her to accept a job with the business office of the church that supervises the order. Elizabeth took the job and gave all her earnings to the order.

Mark's services are not duties required by the order. His earnings are subject to social security and Medicare tax under FICA and Federal income tax.

Elizabeth's services are considered duties required by the order. She is acting as an agent of the order and not as an employee of a third party. She does not include the earnings in gross income, and they are not subject to income tax withholding, social security and Medicare tax, or SE tax.

Christian Science Practitioners and Readers

The exemption from SE tax, discussed earlier, applies only to the services a Christian Science practitioner or reader performs in the exercise of that profession. If you do not have an exemption, amounts you receive for performing these qualified services are subject to SE tax.

Figuring Net Earnings From Self-Employment for SE Tax

You generally figure your net earnings from self-employment by totaling your gross income for services you performed as a minister, a member of a religious order who has not taken a vow of poverty, or Christian Science practitioner. Then you subtract your allowable business deductions and multiply the difference by .9235 (92.35%). Use

Schedule SE (Form 1040) to figure your net earnings and SE tax.

For the SE tax, your net earnings from self-employment include your gross income from qualified services (see Qualified Services, earlier) minus the deductions related to that income.

If you have an approved exemption, or you are automatically exempt, do not include the income or deductions from qualified services in figuring your net earnings from self-employment.

For more information on net earnings from self-employment, get Publication 533.

Gross income. To figure your net earnings from self-employment (on Schedule SE (Form 1040)), include in gross income:

- Salaries and fees for your qualified services,
- Offerings you receive for marriages, baptisms, funerals, masses, etc.,
- The value of meals and lodging provided to you, your spouse, and your dependents for your employer's convenience,
- The fair rental value of a parsonage provided to you (including the cost of utilities that are furnished) and the rental allowance (including an amount for payment of utilities) paid to you, and
- Any amount a church pays toward your income tax or SE tax, other than withholding the amount from your salary. This amount is also subject to income tax.

Example. Pastor Roger Adams receives an annual salary of $16,500 as a full-time minister. The $16,500 includes $1,500 that is designated as a rental allowance to pay utilities. His church owns a parsonage that has a fair rental value of $5,200 per year. Pastor Adams is given the use of the parsonage. He is not exempt from SE tax. He must include $21,700 ($16,500 plus $5,200) when figuring net earnings from self-employment.

The results would be the same if, instead of the use of the parsonage and receipt of the rental allowance for utilities, Pastor Adams had received an annual salary of $21,700 of which $6,700 ($1,500 plus $5,200) per year was designated as a rental allowance.

For the income tax treatment of these amounts, see Exclusion of Rental Allowance and Fair Rental Value of a Parsonage under Income Tax Treatment of Certain Items, later.

Overseas duty. Your net earnings from self-employment are determined without any foreign earned income exclusion or the foreign housing exclusion or deduction if you are a U.S. citizen or resident alien who is serving abroad and living in a foreign country.

Example. Paul Jones was the minister of a U.S. church in Mexico. He earned $22,000 and was able to exclude it all for income tax purposes under the foreign earned income exclusion. However, Mr. Jones must include $22,000 when figuring net earnings from self-employment.

For information on excluding foreign earned income or the foreign housing amount, get Publication 54, Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad.

Specified U.S. possessions. The exclusion from gross income for amounts derived in Guam, American Samoa, or the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands does not apply in computing net earnings from self-employment. Also see Residents of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa, earlier, under U.S. Citizens, Resident and Nonresident Aliens.

Amounts not included in gross income. Do not include the following amounts in gross income when figuring your net earnings from self-employment.

- Offerings that others made to the church.
- Contributions by your church to an annuity plan set up for you, including any salary reduction, that are not included in your gross income.
- Pension payments or retirement allowances you receive for your past qualified services.

Allowable deductions. When figuring your net earnings from self-employment, deduct all your nonemployee ministerial expenses. Also, deduct all your allowable unreimbursed trade or business expenses that you incur in performing ministerial services as a common law employee of the church. Include this net amount on line 2 of Schedule SE (Form 1040).

Reimbursement arrangements. If you received an advance, allowance, or reimbursement for your expenses, how you report this amount and your expenses depends on whether the reimbursement was paid to you under an accountable plan or a nonaccountable plan. If you are not sure if you are reimbursed from an accountable plan or a nonaccountable plan, ask your employer.

Accountable plans. To be an accountable plan, your employer's reimbursement arrangement must include all three of the following rules.

- 1) Your expenses must have a business connection — that is, you must have paid or incurred deductible expenses while performing services as an employee of your employer.
- 2) You must adequately account to your employer for these expenses within a reasonable period of time.
- 3) You must return any excess reimbursement or allowance within a reasonable period of time.

Generally, if your expenses equal your reimbursement, you have no deduction and the reimbursement is not reported on your Form W-2. If your expenses are more than your reimbursement, you can deduct your excess expenses for SE tax and income tax purposes.

Nonaccountable plan. A nonaccountable plan is a reimbursement arrangement that does not meet one or more of the three rules listed under Accountable plans. In addition, even if your employer has an accountable plan, the following payments will be treated as being paid under a nonaccountable plan.

- 1) Excess reimbursements you fail to return to your employer.
- 2) Reimbursement of nondeductible expenses related to your employer's business.

Your employer will combine any reimbursement paid to you under a nonaccountable plan with your wages, salary, or other compensation. Your employer will report the combined total on your Form W-2. You can deduct your expenses (for SE tax and income tax purposes) regardless of whether they are more than, less than, or equal to your reimbursement.

For more information on accountable and nonaccountable plans get Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment, Gift, and Car Expenses.

Husband and Wife Missionary Team

If a husband and wife are both duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed ministers of a church and have an agreement that each will perform specific services for which they are paid jointly or separately, they must divide the SE income according to the agreement.

If the agreement is with one spouse only and the other spouse is not paid for any specific duties, amounts received for their services are included in only the SE income of the spouse having the agreement.

Maximum Earnings Subject to SE Tax

For 1998, the maximum net earnings from self-employment subject to social security (old age, survivor, and disability insurance) tax is $68,400 minus any wages and tips you earned that were subject to social security tax. The tax rate is 12.4%. All of your net earnings are subject to the Medicare (hospital insurance) part of the SE tax. The tax rate is 2.9%.

Optional Methods for Figuring Net Earnings From Self-Employment

You may be able to use an optional method for figuring your net earnings from self-employment. In general, the optional methods are intended to permit continued coverage for social security and Medicare purposes when your income for the tax year is low.

There is an optional method for farmers and an optional method for nonfarm businesses. If you are in farm and nonfarm businesses, you may qualify for both options.

Farm optional method. If you are in the farming business, you may be able to use the farm optional method. For more information on the farm optional method, see Publication 533.

Nonfarm optional method. You may use the nonfarm optional method for nonfarm SE income if you meet all of the following tests.

- 1) Your net nonfarm profits are less than $1,733.
- 2) Your net nonfarm profits are less than 72.189% of your total gross income from nonfarm self-employment.
- 3) You are self-employed or a partner on a regular basis. This means that your actual net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more in at least 2 of the 3 tax years before the one for which you use this method.

- 4) You have not previously used this method more than 4 years (there is a 5-year lifetime limit). The years do not have to be consecutive.

If you meet these four tests, you may report the smaller of two-thirds of the gross income from your nonfarm business, or $1,600 as your net earnings from self-employment.

You may not report less than your actual net earnings from nonfarm self-employment.

Income Tax Treatment of Certain Items

Some income and expense items are treated the same for income tax and SE tax purposes and some are treated differently.

Income Items

The tax treatment of offerings and fees, outside earnings, rental allowances, rental value of parsonage, pay of members of religious orders, and foreign earned income is discussed here.

Offerings and Fees

If you are a member of the clergy, you must include in your income offerings and fees you receive for marriages, baptisms, funerals, masses, etc., in addition to your salary. If the offering is made to the religious institution, it is not taxable to you.

Outside Earnings

If you are a member of a religious organization and you give your outside earnings to the organization, you still must include the earnings in your income. However, you may be entitled to a charitable contribution deduction for the amount paid to the organization. Get Publication 526.

Exclusion of Rental Allowance and Fair Rental Value of a Parsonage

Ordained, commissioned, or licensed ministers of the gospel may be able to exclude the rental allowance or fair rental value of a parsonage that is provided to them as pay for their services. Services include:

- Qualified services, discussed earlier under Ministers,
- Administrative duties and teaching at theological seminaries, and
- The ordinary duties of a minister performed as an employee of the United States (other than as a chaplain in the Armed Forces), a state, possession, political subdivision, or the District of Columbia.

This exclusion applies only for income tax purposes. It does not apply for SE tax purposes, as discussed earlier under Figuring Net Earnings From Self-Employment for SE Tax.

Rental allowances. If you receive in your pay an amount officially designated as a rental allowance, you can exclude the allowance from your gross income if:

- 1) The amount is used to provide or rent a home, and
- 2) The amount is not more than reasonable pay for your services.

The term "rental allowance" includes an amount to pay utility costs.

Fair rental value of parsonage. You can exclude from gross income the fair rental value of a house or parsonage, including utilities, furnished to you as part of your pay. However, the exclusion cannot be more than the reasonable pay for your services. If you pay for the utilities, you can exclude any allowance designated for utility costs, up to your actual cost.

Example. Rev. Amos Baker is a full-time minister at the Central Mission Church. The church allows him to use the parsonage that has an annual fair rental value of $4,800. The church pays him an annual salary of $13,200, of which $1,200 is designated for utility costs. His utility costs during the year were $1,000.

For income tax purposes, Rev. Baker excludes $5,800 from gross income (the fair rental value of the parsonage plus $1,000 from the allowance for utility costs). He will report $12,200 ($12,000 salary and $200 of unused utility allowance). His income for SE tax purposes, however, is $18,000 ($13,200 salary + $4,800 fair rental value of the parsonage).

Home ownership. If you own your home and you receive as part of your pay a housing or rental allowance, you may exclude from gross income the smallest of the following:

- The amount actually used to provide a home,
- The amount officially designated as a rental allowance, or
- The fair rental value of the home, including furnishings, utilities, garage, etc.

You must include in gross income the amount of any rental allowance that is more than the smallest of your reasonable pay, the fair rental value of the home plus utilities, or the amount actually used to provide a home.

You may deduct the home mortgage interest and real estate taxes you pay on your home even though all or part of the mortgage is paid with funds you get through a tax-free rental or parsonage allowance.

Retired ministers. If you are a retired minister, you exclude from your gross income the rental value of a home (plus utilities) furnished to you by your church as a part of your pay for past services, or the part of your pension that was designated as a rental allowance. However, a minister's surviving spouse cannot exclude the rental value unless the rental value is for ministerial services he or she performs or performed.

Self-employment earnings. If you are a retired minister, you can exclude from your net earnings from self-employment the rental value of a parsonage or a parsonage allowance you are provided after you retire. This applies whether or not you can exclude the amount for income tax purposes. You can also exclude from your net earnings from self-employment any retirement benefits you receive from a church plan.

Theological students. If you are a theological student serving a required internship as a part-time or assistant pastor, you cannot exclude a parsonage or rental allowance from your income unless you are ordained, commissioned, or licensed as a minister.

Traveling evangelists. You can exclude a designated rental allowance from out-of-town churches if you meet all of the following requirements.

- 1) You are an ordained minister.
- 2) You perform qualified services at churches located away from your community.
- 3) You actually use the rental allowance to maintain your permanent home.

Cantors. If you have a bona fide commission and your congregation employs you on a full-time basis to perform substantially all the religious functions of the Jewish faith, you can exclude a rental allowance from your gross income.

Pay — Members of Religious Orders

Your pay may be exempt from both income tax and SE tax if you are a member of a religious order who:

- Has taken a vow of poverty,
- Receives pay for services performed as an agent of the order and in the exercise of duties required by the order, and
- Renounces the pay and gives it to the order.

See Members of Religious Orders, earlier under Social Security Coverage.

Foreign Earned Income

Certain income may be exempt from income tax if you work in a foreign country or in a specified U.S. possession. Publication 54 discusses the foreign earned income exclusion. Publication 570, Tax Guide for Individuals With Income From U.S. Possessions, covers the rules for taxpayers in U.S. possessions. You may get these free publications from the Internal Revenue Service or from most U.S. Embassies or consulates.

Expense Items

The tax treatment of ministerial trade or business expenses, expenses allocable to tax-free income, and health insurance costs is discussed here.

Ministerial Trade or Business Expenses as an Employee

When you figure your income tax, you must itemize your deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040) to claim allowable deductions for ministerial trade or business expenses incurred while working as an employee. You may also have to file Form 2106, Employee Business Expenses (or Form 2106-EZ).

These expenses are claimed as miscellaneous itemized deductions and are subject to the 2% of adjusted gross income (AGI) limit. See Publication 529 for more information on this limit.

Additionally, these expenses may have to be reduced by the amount that is allocable to tax-free income (discussed next) before being limited by the 2% AGI limit.

Expenses Allocable to Tax-Free Income

If you receive a rental or parsonage allowance that is exempt from income tax (tax-free), you must allocate a portion of the expenses of operating your ministry to that tax-free income. You cannot deduct the portion of your expenses that is allocated to your tax-free rental or parsonage allowance.

Exception. This rule does not apply to your deductions for home mortgage interest or real estate taxes on your home.

Figuring the allocation. Figure the portion of your otherwise deductible expenses that you cannot deduct (because that portion must be allocated to tax-free income) by multiplying the expenses by the following fraction:

Tax-free rental or parsonage allowance

All income (taxable and tax-free)
earned from your ministry

When figuring the allocation, include the income and expenses related to the ministerial duties you perform both as an employee and as a self-employed person.

Reduce your deductible expenses only in figuring your income tax, not your SE tax.

Example. Rev. Charles Ashford received $40,000 in ministerial earnings consisting of a $28,000 salary for ministerial services, $2,000 for weddings and baptisms, and a $10,000 tax-free housing allowance. He incurred $4,000 of unreimbursed expenses connected with his ministerial earnings. $3,500 of the $4,000 is related to his ministerial salary, and $500 is related to the weddings and baptisms he performed as a self-employed person.

The nondeductible portion of expenses related to Rev. Ashford's ministerial salary is figured as follows:

$$\frac{$10,000}{$40,000} \times $3,500 = $875$$

The nondeductible portion of expenses related to Rev. Ashford's wedding and baptism income is figured as follows:

$$\frac{$10,000}{$40,000} \times $500 = $125$$

Required statement. If you receive a tax-free rental or parsonage allowance and have ministerial expenses, attach a statement to your tax return. The statement must contain all of the following information.

- 1) A list of each item of taxable ministerial income by source (such as wages, salary, weddings, baptisms, etc.) plus the amount.
- 2) A list of each item of tax-free ministerial income by source (parsonage allowance) plus the amount.

- 3) A list of each item of otherwise deductible ministerial expenses plus the amount.
- 4) How you figured the nondeductible part of your otherwise deductible expenses.
- 5) A statement that the other deductions claimed on your tax return are not allocable to your tax-free income.

See the statement prepared for the Comprehensive Example, later.

Health Insurance Costs of Self-Employed Ministers

If you are self-employed, you may be able to deduct a percentage of the amount you pay for medical insurance coverage for yourself and your family. For 1998, the percentage is 45%.

You can take this deduction even if you do not itemize deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040). You take the deduction as an adjustment to income on Form 1040. There is a worksheet in the instructions for Form 1040 that you can use to figure this deduction.

The following special rules apply to the self-employed health insurance deduction.

- The expenses taken into account for purposes of this deduction are not allowed as a medical expense deduction on Schedule A.
- The deduction is not allowed for any month you are eligible to participate in a subsidized plan of your or your spouse's employer.
- The deduction is not used to reduce your net earnings for your SE tax.
- The deduction cannot exceed your net earnings from the business under which the insurance plan is established. Your net earnings under this rule do not include the income you earned as a common-law employee (discussed earlier) of a church.

More information. For more information about the self-employed health insurance deduction, see chapter 10 in Publication 535.

Deduction for SE Tax

You can deduct one-half of your SE tax in figuring adjusted gross income. This is an income tax deduction only, and you deduct it on line 27 of Form 1040.

It is not a deduction in figuring net earnings from self-employment subject to SE tax.

Income Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax

If you are a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister, a member of a religious order (who has not taken a vow of poverty), or a Christian Science practitioner, and you perform qualified services, your salary is subject to income tax. However, it is generally not subject to federal income tax withholding.

If your salary is not subject to withholding, you should make estimated tax payments to avoid penalties for not paying tax as you earn your income. For more information, see Payment of Estimated Tax, later.

If you perform your services as an employee of the church (under the common law rules) and your pay is not subject to income tax withholding, you can enter into a voluntary withholding agreement with your employer, the church, to cover any income and SE tax that may be due.

Filing Your Return

Even if you are not otherwise required to file, you must file an income tax return on Form 1040 if:

- You are not exempt from SE tax, and you have net earnings from self-employment (discussed earlier under Figuring Net Earnings From Self-Employment for SE Tax) of $400 or more in the tax year,
- You are exempt from SE tax on earnings from qualified services and you have $400 or more of other earnings subject to SE tax, or
- You had wages of $108.28 or more from an electing church or church-controlled organization (discussed earlier under Religious Workers).

Self-employment tax. If you are liable for SE tax, you must file Schedule SE (Form 1040) with your return. Publication 533 has information about completing the schedule.

Exemption from SE tax. If you filed Form 4361 and received IRS approval not to be taxed on those earnings, and you do not have any other income subject to SE tax, do not file Schedule SE. Instead, write "Exempt—Form 4361" on Form 1040, line 50.

If you filed Form 4029 and received IRS approval not to be taxed on those earnings, and you do not have any other income subject to SE tax, do not file Schedule SE. Instead, write "Exempt—Form 4029" on Form 1040, line 50.

For more information on filing your return, including when and where to file it, see the instructions for Form 1040.

Payment of Estimated Tax

Estimated tax is the method used to pay income, self-employment, and other taxes you report on Form 1040 for income that is either not subject to withholding, or from which not enough tax is withheld. Your estimated tax is your expected tax for the year minus your expected withholding and credits.

Generally, you must make estimated tax payments if your estimated tax for the year will be $1,000 or more.

Determine your estimated tax by using the worksheet in Form 1040-ES. Then, using the Form 1040-ES payment voucher, pay the entire estimated tax or the first installment by April 15, 1999. The April 15th date applies whether or not your tax home and your abode are outside the United States and Puerto Rico.

For more information get Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Retirement Savings Arrangements

Retirement savings arrangements are plans that offer you tax advantages to set aside money for your retirement. You generally can deduct your contributions to the plan. Your contributions and the earnings on them are not taxed until they are distributed.

Retirement plans for the self-employed.

To set up a qualified retirement plan (such as a Keogh (H.R. 10) plan, a simplified employee pension (SEP) plan, or a SIMPLE plan), you must be self-employed.

The common law rules determine whether you are an employee or a self-employed person for purposes of setting up a Keogh retirement plan. See Employment Status for Other Tax Purposes, earlier. This is true even if your pay for qualified services (discussed earlier) is treated as self-employment earnings for social security and Medicare taxes.

For example, if a congregation pays you a salary for performing qualified services, and you are subject to the congregation's control, you are a common-law employee. You are not a self-employed person for purposes of setting up a retirement plan. This is true even if your salary is subject to SE tax.

On the other hand, amounts received directly from members of the congregation, such as fees for performing marriages, baptisms, or other personal services that are reported on Schedule C (Form 1040), are earnings from self-employment for all tax purposes.

For more information on establishing a Keogh, SEP, or SIMPLE plan, get Publication 560, Retirement Plans for Small Business.

Individual retirement arrangements (IRAs).

The traditional IRA and the Roth IRA are two individual retirement arrangements you can use to save money for your retirement. You generally are allowed to make contributions to either a traditional or a Roth IRA of up to $2,000 or the amount of your pay, whichever is less. $2,000 is the most you can contribute regardless of whether you contribute to one or more IRAs or to both kinds of IRAs. Contributions to a traditional IRA may be deductible. Your deduction for contributions to your traditional IRA may be reduced or eliminated if you or your spouse is covered by an employer retirement plan (including, but not limited to a Keogh, SEP, or SIMPLE plan). Unlike contributions to a traditional IRA, contributions to a Roth IRA are not deductible. But, if you satisfy certain requirements, all earnings in the IRA are tax free and neither your nondeductible contributions nor any earnings on them are taxable when you withdraw them.

For more information on IRAs, get Publication 590.

Church plans. If you are a duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister working as a minister or chaplain, and are self-employed or employed by an organization that is not a tax-exempt organization, you can participate in a church plan. For more information, see Publication 571, Tax-Sheltered Annuity Programs for Employees of Public Schools and Certain Tax-Exempt Organizations.

Earned Income Credit

The earned income credit is a special credit for certain people who work. If you qualify for it, the earned income credit reduces the tax you owe. Even if you do not owe tax, you can get a refund of the credit. Depending on your situation, the credit can be as high as $3,756.

Also, you may be able to get part of the credit added to your pay instead of waiting until after the end of the year.

You cannot take the credit if your earned income (or modified adjusted gross income, if greater) is:

- $10,030 or more if you do not have a qualifying child,
- $26,473 or more if you have one qualifying child, or
- $30,095 or more if you have more than one qualifying child.

Earned Income. Earned income includes your:

- Wages, salaries, tips, and other pay, and
- Net earnings from self-employment minus the amount you claimed (or should have claimed) on Form 1040, line 27, for one-half of your SE tax.

Earned income for a minister with an approved Form 4361. If you have earnings from qualified services that are exempt from SECA (have an approved Form 4361), amounts you received for performing ministerial duties as an employee are earned income. This includes wages, salaries, tips, and other employee pay. It also includes pay that is not taxed, such as the housing and utility allowance received as part of your pay for services as an employee.

Amounts you received for nonemployee ministerial duties are not earned income. This includes fees for performing marriages, baptisms, and honoraria for delivering speeches.

If you had nonministerial duties, any net earnings from self-employment, minus one-half of your SE tax, or any pay received as an employee is earned income.

Earned income for a minister whose income from qualified services is not exempt from SECA. Earned income includes your net earnings from self-employment plus any pay you received for nonministerial duties minus your Form 1040, line 27, amount for one-half of SE tax.

Your net earnings from self-employment includes those net earnings from qualified services. See Figuring Net Earnings From Self-Employment for SE Tax, earlier. Net earnings also includes net earnings from self-employment related to nonministerial duties.

Earned income for a member of a recognized religious sect with an approved Form 4029. If you have an approved Form 4029, all wages, salaries, tips, and other employee compensation are earned income. Amounts you received as a self-employed individual are not earned income. Also, losses from Schedules C, C-EZ, or F cannot be subtracted from wages on line 7 of Form 1040.

More information. For the detailed rules on this credit, get Publication 596. To figure the amount of your credit, you will have to fill out a worksheet or have the IRS compute the credit for you. You may need to complete Schedule EIC and attach it to your tax return. For details on getting part of the credit added to your pay, get Form W-5, Earned Income

Credit Advance Payment Certificate from your employer or the IRS.

- A second IRS representative sometimes monitors live telephone calls. That person only evaluates the IRS assistant and does not keep a record of any taxpayer's name or tax identification number.
- We sometimes record telephone calls to evaluate IRS assistants objectively. We hold these recordings no longer than one week and use them only to measure the quality of assistance.
- We value our customers' opinions. Throughout this year, we will be surveying our customers for their opinions on our service.

Comprehensive Example

Rev. John Michaels is the minister of the First United Church. He is married and has one child. He is a common-law employee of the church, and he has not applied for an exemption from SE tax. The church paid him a salary of $31,000. In addition, as a self-employed person, he earned $4,000 during the year for weddings, baptisms, and honoraria.

In an earlier year, Rev. Michaels bought a home next to the church. He makes an $800 per month mortgage payment of principal and interest only. The church paid him $800 per month as his parsonage allowance (excluding utilities). The home's fair rental value is $900 per month. The utility bills for the year totaled $960. The church paid him $100 per month designated as an allowance for utility costs.

The church did not withhold federal income taxes because Rev. Michaels had not requested it. The church reports his salary for income tax purposes on Form W-2, box 1, leaving blank the boxes for social security and Medicare wages. Box 1 of the Form W-2 shows his wages of $31,000. He made estimated tax payments during the year totaling $8,400.

Rev. Michaels taught a course at a local community college. He was paid $3,400, which was reported on a Form W-2. The federal income tax withheld was $272. As an employee of the college, he was subject to social security and Medicare withholding. His Form W-2 shows $210.80 withheld for social security taxes and $49.30 withheld for Medicare taxes.

Form 1040

On Form 1040, Rev. Michaels reports $34,400 on line 7. This is the total of his $31,000 church salary and $3,400 college salary. On line 12 he reports his net profit of $3,809 from Schedule C-EZ. On line 21 he reports $240 (the excess of his utility allowance over his utility costs). (The parsonage allowance is not taxable for income tax purposes.)

Schedule C-EZ (Form 1040)

On Schedule C-EZ, Rev. Michaels reports the $4,000 from weddings, baptisms, and honoraria. His related expenses for the year were $87 for marriage and family booklets and $161 for 495 miles of business use of his car (mainly for trips in connection with honoraria) figured at the standard mileage rate of 32.5 cents a mile. He cannot deduct the part of his expenses allocable to his tax-free income. He attaches the required statement (shown later) to his tax return that explains how he figures the nondeductible part ($57). He subtracts the $57 from the $248 and enters the $191 difference on line 2 of Schedule C-EZ. He reports his net profit of $3,809 on line 12 of Form 1040.

Schedule SE (Form 1040)

On Schedule SE, Rev. Michaels includes the entire parsonage allowance ($9,600), the entire utility allowance ($1,200), his salary from the church ($31,000), and the net income from Schedule C-EZ ($3,809). He subtracts from this the $57 of nondeductible Schedule C-EZ expenses and the $1,131 ($912 + $219) of allowable employee business expenses (discussed below). He reports his net income of $44,421 in Section A of Schedule SE. (As a minister, his church salary is not considered "church employee income".)

After completing Schedule SE (Form 1040), Rev. Michaels enters the SE tax ($6,277) on Form 1040, line 50. Also, he enters half of this amount ($3,139) on Form 1040, line 27.

Form 2106-EZ

Rev. Michaels fills out Form 2106-EZ to report the unreimbursed business expenses he had as a common-law employee of First United Church.

Line 1. Before completing line 1, Rev. Michaels fills out Part III because he used his car for church business. Then he figures his vehicle expense by multiplying the 2,806 business miles on line 8a by the standard mileage rate of 32.5 cents. The result is $912.

Line 4. He enters $219 for his professional publications and booklets.

Line 6. Before entering the total expenses on line 6, he must reduce them by the amount that is allocable to his tax-free parsonage allowance. On the attached required statement (shown later), he shows how he figured the nondeductible part of his expense. The result is $260 of expenses allocable to the tax-free income. He subtracts $260 from $1,131 and enters the result, $871 on line 6. He also enters $871 on line 20 of Schedule A (Form 1040).

Schedule A (Form 1040)

Rev. Michaels deducts $1,750 in real estate taxes on line 6 and $6,810 of home mortgage interest on line 10. He contributed $4,800 in cash during the year to various qualifying charities. Each individual contribution was for less than $250. He deducts the $4,800 on line 15. On line 20 he enters his unreimbursed employee business expenses from Form 2106-EZ. However, he can claim only the amount that exceeds 2% of his adjusted gross income. He enters $165 as the total of his miscellaneous deductions on line 26. The total of all itemized deductions is $13,525, which he enters on line 28 of Schedule A and on line 36 of Form 1040.
