General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Purpose of Form

A homeowners association files Form 1120-H as its income tax return to take advantage of certain tax benefits. These benefits, in effect, allow the association to exclude exempt function income (defined below) from its gross income.

Electing To File Form 1120-H

A homeowners association elects to take advantage of the tax benefits provided by section 528 by filing a properly completed Form 1120-H. The election is made separately for each tax year and generally must be made by the due date, including extensions, of the income tax return.

See Regulations section 301.9100-2 for information on a 12-month extension of time to make the election. This extension does not extend the time to pay the tax. Once Form 1120-H is filed, the association cannot revoke its election for that year unless the IRS consents. The association may request IRS consent by filing a ruling request. A user fee must be paid with all ruling requests. For more information on ruling requests, see Rev. Proc. 2002-1. You can find this revenue procedure on page 1 of Internal Revenue Bulletin 2002-1 at www.irs.gov/pub/irs-irbs/irb02-01.pdf.

If the association does not elect to use Form 1120-H, it must file the applicable income tax return (Form 1120, etc.).

A homeowners association should compare its total tax computed on Form 1120-H with its total tax computed on either Form 1120, U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return, or Form 1120-A, U.S. Corporation Short-Form Income Tax Return. The association may file the form that results in the lowest tax.

Note: The taxable income of a homeowners association that files its tax return on Form 1120-H is taxed at a flat rate of 30% for condominium management associations and residential real estate associations. The tax rate for timeshare associations is 32%. These rates apply to both ordinary income and capital gains.

If the association is tax exempt under section 501(a), do not file Form 1120-H. See section 6033 and related regulations. If the association loses its exempt status, see Regulations section 1.528-8(e).

Definitions

Homeowners association. There are three kinds of homeowners associations:

1. A condominium management association organized and operated to acquire, build, manage, maintain, and care for the property in a condominium project substantially all of whose units are homes for individuals.

2. A residential real estate management association organized and operated to acquire, build, manage, maintain, and care for a subdivision, development, or similar area substantially all of whose lots or buildings are homes for individuals.

3. A timeshare association (other than a condominium management association), organized and operated to acquire, build, manage, maintain, and care for the property that has members who hold a timeshare right to use, or a timeshare ownership interest in, real property of the timeshare association. A timeshare association cannot be a condominium management association.

See Regulations section 1.528-4 for information regarding the "substantially all" test for condominium management associations and residential real estate management associations.

To qualify as a homeowners association, the following must apply.

- At least 60% of the association's gross income for the tax year must consist of exempt function income (see below).
- At least 90% of the association's expenses for the tax year must consist of expenses to acquire, build, manage, maintain, or care for its property, and, in the case of a timeshare association, for activities provided to, or on behalf of, members of the timeshare association.
- No private shareholder or individual can profit from the association's net earnings except by acquiring, building, managing, or caring for association property or by a rebate of excess membership dues, fees, or assessments.
- The association must file Form 1120-H to elect under section 528 to be treated as a homeowners association.

Association property. Association property includes real and personal property that:

1. The association holds,
2. The association's members hold in common,
3. The association's members hold privately within the association, and
4. Is owned by a governmental unit and is used to benefit the unit's residents.

The timeshare association or its members have rights arising out of recorded easements, covenants, or other recorded instruments to use property related to the timeshare project.

For more information, see Regulations section 1.528-3.

Taxable income. Taxable income is the excess, if any, of:

1. Gross income for the tax year, excluding exempt function income, over

2. Allowed deductions directly connected with producing any gross income except exempt function income. Allowed deductions include a specific $100 deduction. The following are not allowed:

- Net operating loss deduction (section 172).
- Deductions under Part VIII of subchapter B (special deductions for corporations).

If facilities are used (or personnel are employed) for both exempt and nonexempt purposes, see Regulations section 1.528-10.

Exempt function income. Exempt function income consists of membership dues, fees, or assessments from (a) owners of condominium housing units, (b) owners of real property in the case of a residential real estate management association, or (c) owners of timeshare rights to use, or timeshare ownership interests in, real property in the case of a timeshare association. This income must come from the members as owners, not as customers, of the association's services.

Assessments or fees for a common activity qualify but charges for providing services do not qualify.

Examples. In general, exempt function income includes assessments made to:

1. Pay principal, interest, and real estate taxes on association property.
2. Maintain association property.
3. Clear snow from public areas and remove trash.

Income that is not exempt function income includes:

1. Amounts that are not includible in the organization's gross income other than under section 528 (for example, tax-exempt interest).
2. Payments from nonmembers.
3. Payments from members for special use of the organization's facilities, apart from the use generally available to all members.
4. Interest on amounts in a sinking fund.
5. Payments for work done on nonassociation property.
6. Members' payments for transportation.

For more information, see Regulations section 1.528-9.

When To File

Generally, an association must file Form 1120-H by the 15th day of the 3rd month after the end of the tax year.

If the due date falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the association may file on the next business day.

Private delivery services. You can use certain private delivery services designated by the IRS to meet the "timely mailing as timely filing/paying" rule for tax returns and payments. See the instructions for Form 1120 for details.

Extension. File Form 7004, Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File Corporation Income Tax Return, to request a 6-month extension of time to file.

Who Must Sign

The return must be signed and dated by the president, vice-president, treasurer, assistant treasurer, chief accounting officer, or any other association officer (such as a tax officer) authorized to sign. Receivers, trustees, or assignees must sign and date any return filed on behalf of an association.

If an association officer completes Form 1120-H, the paid preparer's space should remain blank. Anyone who prepares Form 1120-H but does not charge the association should not sign the return. Generally, anyone who is paid to prepare the return must sign it and fill in the "Paid Preparer's Use Only" area.

The paid preparer must complete the required preparer information and—

- Sign the return, by hand, in the space provided for the preparer's signature (signature stamps and labels are not acceptable).
- Give a copy of the return to the taxpayer.

Where To File

File the association's return at the applicable IRS address listed below.

If the association's principal business or office is located in:	Use the following Internal Revenue Service Center address:

Paid Preparer Authorization

If the association wants to allow the IRS to discuss its 2002 tax return with the paid preparer who signed it, check the "Yes" box in the signature area of the return. This authorization applies only to the individual whose signature appears in the "Paid Preparer's Use Only" section of the association's return. It does not apply to the firm, if any, shown in that section.

If the "Yes" box is checked, the association is authorizing the IRS to call the paid preparer to answer any questions that may arise during the processing of its return. The association is also authorizing the paid preparer to:

- Give the IRS any information that is missing from the return,
- Call the IRS for information about the processing of the return or the status of any related refund or payment(s), and
- Respond to certain IRS notices that the association has shared with the preparer about math errors, offsets, and return preparation. The notices will not be sent to the preparer.

The association is not authorizing the paid preparer to receive any refund check, bind the association to anything (including any additional tax liability), or otherwise represent the association before the IRS. If the association wants to expand the paid preparer's authorization, see Pub. 947, Practice Before the IRS and Power of Attorney.

The authorization cannot be revoked.

However, the authorization will automatically end no later than the due date (without extensions) for filing the association's 2003 tax return.

Other Forms and Statements That May Be Required

The association may have to file some of the following. See the form for more information.

Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement and Form W-3, Transmittal of Wage and Tax Statements. Use these forms to report wages, tips, and other compensation, withheld income, social security, and Medicare taxes for employees.

Form 940 or Form 940-EZ, Employer's Annual Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return. The association may be liable for FUTA tax and may have to file Form 940 or Form 940-EZ if it either:

- Paid wages of $1,500 or more in any calendar quarter in 2001 or 2002, or
- Had one or more employees who worked for the association for at least some part of a day in any 20 or more different weeks in 2001 or 20 or more different weeks in 2002.

Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return. File this form quarterly to report income tax withheld and employer and employee social security/Medicare taxes.

Form 945, Annual Return of Withheld Federal Income Tax. File this form to report income tax withheld from nonpayroll distributions or payments.

Form 1098, Mortgage Interest Statement. Use this form to report the receipt of $600 or more of mortgage interest (including points) in the course of the association's trade or business.

Forms 1099-A, B, DIV, INT, MISC, and S. Use these information returns to report acquisitions or abandonments of secured property, proceeds from broker and barter exchange transactions, certain dividends and distributions, interest income, miscellaneous income (e.g., payments to providers of health and medical services; miscellaneous income payments and nonemployee compensation), and proceeds from real estate transactions. Also use these returns to report amounts that were received as a nominee on behalf of another person.

For more information, see the Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G.

Form 8300, Report of Cash Payments Over $10,000 Received in a Trade or Business. Use this form to report the receipt of more than $10,000 in cash or foreign currency in one transaction or in a series of related transactions.

Assembling the Return

Attach Form 4136, Credit for Federal Tax Paid on Fuels, to Form 1120-H. Attach schedules in alphabetical order and additional forms in numerical order after Form 4136.

Complete every applicable entry space on Form 1120-H. Do not write "See Attached" instead of completing the entry spaces. If more space is needed on the forms or schedules, attach separate sheets using the same size and format as the printed forms. If there are supporting statements and attachments, arrange them in the same order as the schedules or forms they support and attach them last. Show the totals on the printed forms. Also, be sure to enter the association's name and EIN on each supporting statement or attachment.

Accounting Methods

Figure taxable income using the method of accounting regularly used in keeping the association's books and records. Generally, permissible methods include cash, accrual, or any other method authorized by the Internal Revenue Code. In all cases, the method used must clearly reflect taxable income.

Generally, an accrual basis taxpayer can deduct accrued expenses in the tax year in which (a) all events that determine the liability have occurred, (b) the amount of the liability can be figured with reasonable accuracy, and (c) economic performance takes place with respect to the expense. There are exceptions for recurring items. See section 461(h) and the related regulations for the rules for determining when economic performance takes place.

Generally, the association must get IRS consent to change the method of accounting used to report taxable income (for income as a whole or any material item). To do so, it must file Form 3115, Application for Change in Accounting Method. For more information, get Pub. 538, Accounting Periods and Methods.

Change of Tax Year

Generally, an association must get the consent of the IRS before changing its tax year by filing Form 1128, Application To Adopt, Change, or Retain a Tax Year. However, under certain conditions, an association may change its tax year without getting the consent.

For more information on change in tax year, see Form 1128, Regulations section 1.442-1, and Pub. 538.

Rounding Off to Whole Dollars

The association may show amounts on the return and accompanying schedules as whole dollars. To do so, drop amounts less than 50 cents and increase amounts from 50 cents through 99 cents to the next higher dollar.

Depository Method of Tax Payment

The association must pay the tax due in full no later than the 15th day of the 3rd month after the end of the tax year. The two methods of depositing association income taxes are discussed below.

Electronic Deposit Requirement

The association must make electronic deposits of all depository taxes (such as employment tax, excise tax, and corporate income tax) using the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS) in 2003 if:

- The total deposits of such taxes in 2001 were more than $200,000 or
- The association was required to use EFTPS in 2002.

If the association is required to use EFTPS and fails to do so, it may be subject to a 10% penalty. If the association is not required to use EFTPS, it may participate voluntarily. To enroll in or get more information about EFTPS, call 1-800-555-4477 or 1-800-945-8400 or visit the EFTPS website at www.eftps.gov.

Depositing on time. For EFTPS deposits to be made timely, the association must initiate the transaction at least 1 business day before the date the deposit is due.

Deposits With Form 8109. If the association does not use EFTPS, deposit association income tax payments (and estimated tax payments) with Form 8109, Federal Tax Deposit Coupon. If you do not have a preprinted Form 8109, use Form 8109-B to make deposits. You can get this form by calling 1-800-829-4933. Be sure to have your EIN ready when you call.

Do not send deposits directly to an IRS office; otherwise, the association may have to pay a penalty. Mail or deliver the completed Form 8109 with the payment to an authorized depository, i.e., a commercial bank or other financial institution authorized to accept Federal tax deposits. Make checks or money orders payable to the depository.

To help ensure proper crediting, write the association's EIN, the tax period to which the deposit applies, and "Form 1120-H" on the check or money order. Be sure to darken the "1120" box on the coupon. Records of these deposits will be sent to the IRS.

If you prefer, you may mail your coupon and payment to Financial Agent, Federal Tax Deposit Processing, P.O. Box 970030, St. Louis, MO 63197. Make the check or money order payable to "Financial Agent."

For more information on deposits, see the instructions in the coupon booklet (Form 8109) and Pub. 583, Starting a Business and Keeping Records.

Caution: If the association owes tax when it files Form 1120-H, do not include the payment with the tax return. Instead, mail or deliver the payment with Form 8109 to an authorized depository, or use EFTPS, if applicable.

Estimated Tax, Alternative Minimum Tax, and Certain Tax Credits

These items do not apply to homeowners associations electing to file Form 1120-H. See the instructions for line 21 below for a list of the tax credits that do not apply. However, a homeowners association that does not elect to file Form 1120-H may be required to make payments of estimated tax. Because the election is not made until the return is filed, Form 1120-H provides lines for estimated tax payments and the crediting of overpayments against estimated tax if payments or overpayments apply.

Interest and Penalties

Interest. Interest is charged on taxes paid late even if an extension of time to file is granted. Interest is also charged on penalties imposed for failure to file, negligence, fraud, gross valuation overstatements, and substantial understatement of tax from the due date (including extensions) to the date of payment. The interest charge is figured at a rate determined under section 6621.

Penalty for late filing of return. In addition to losing the right to elect to file Form 1120-H, a homeowners association that does not file its tax return by the due date, including extensions, may be penalized 5% of the unpaid tax for each month or part of a month the return is late, up to a maximum of 25% of the unpaid tax. The minimum penalty for a return that is over 60 days late is the smaller of the tax due or $100. The penalty will not be imposed if the association can show that the failure to file on time was due to reasonable cause. Associations that file late must attach a statement explaining the reasonable cause.

Penalty for late payment of tax. An association that does not pay the tax when due generally may be penalized 1/2 of 1% of the unpaid tax for each month or part of a month the tax is not paid, up to a maximum of 25% of the unpaid tax. The penalty will not be imposed if the association can show that the failure to pay on time was due to reasonable cause.

Other penalties. Other penalties can be imposed for negligence, substantial understatement of tax, and fraud. See sections 6662 and 6663.

Specific Instructions

Period covered. File the 2002 return for calendar year 2002, short years beginning in 2002, and fiscal years that begin in 2002 and end in 2003. For a fiscal year or short year return, fill in the tax year space at the top of the form.

Note: The 2002 Form 1120-H may also be used if (a) the association has a tax year of less than 12 months that begins and ends in 2003 and

(b) the 2003 Form 1120-H is not available at the time the association is required to file its return.

However, the association must show its 2003 tax year on the 2002 Form 1120-H and must incorporate any tax law changes that are effective for tax years beginning after 2002.

Address. Include the suite, room, or other unit number after the street address. If a pre-addressed label is used, include this information on the label.

If the Post Office does not deliver mail to the street address and the association has a P.O. box, show the box number instead of the street address.

Note: If a change in address occurs after the return is filed, the association can use Form 8822, Change of Address, to notify the IRS of the new address.

Employer identification number (EIN). Show the correct EIN in the space provided. If the association does not have an EIN, it should apply for one on Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number. If the association has not received its EIN by the time the return is due, write "Applied for" in the space for the EIN. See Pub. 583 for details.

Final return, name change, address change, or amended return.

- If the association ceases to exist, file Form 1120-H and check the "Final return" box.
- If the association has changed its address since it last filed a return, check the box for "Address change."
- If the association changed its name since it last filed a return, check the box for "Name change."
- To amend a previously filed Form 1120-H, file a corrected Form 1120-H and check the "Amended return" box.

Item B—60% exempt function income test. At least 60% of the association's gross income for the tax year must consist of exempt function income (see Definitions on page 2).

Item C—90% expenditure test. At least 90% of the association's expenditures for the tax year must consist of expenses to acquire, build, manage, maintain, and care for property, and in the case of a timeshare association, for activities provided to, or on behalf of, members of the timeshare association. Include current and capital expenditures. Use the association's accounting method to figure the total.

Include:

1. Salary for an association manager or secretary.
2. Expenses for gardening, paving, street signs, security guards, and property taxes assessed on association property.
3. Current operating and capital expenditures for tennis courts, swimming pools, recreation halls, etc.
4. Replacement costs for common buildings, heating, air conditioning, elevators, etc.

Do not include expenditures for property that is not association property. Also, do not include investments or transfers of funds held to meet future costs. An example would be transfers to a sinking fund to replace a roof, even if the roof is association property.

Item D. Enter the association's total expenditures for the tax year including those expenditures directly related to exempt function income. Use the association's accounting method to figure the entry for item D.

Item E. Show any tax-exempt interest received or accrued. Include any exempt-interest dividend received as a shareholder in a mutual fund or other regulated investment company.

Line 21—Tax credits. The association may qualify for the following tax credits:

Foreign tax credit. See Form 1118, Foreign Tax Credit—Corporations.

Credit for fuel produced from a nonconventional source. See section 29 for a definition of qualified fuels, provisions for figuring the credit, and other special rules.

Qualified electric vehicle credit. See Form 8834, Qualified Electric Vehicle Credit, and section 30.

The general business credit (but not the investment credit, the Indian employment credit, the work opportunity credit, the welfare-to-work credit, the empowerment zone and renewal community employment credit, and the New York Liberty Zone business employee credit). See Form 3800, General Business Credit.

Note: The association may not claim the qualified zone academy bond credit.

Enter the total amount of credits on line 21 and attach the appropriate form(s).

Line 22. If the association must recapture any of the low-income housing credit (or the qualified electric vehicle or new markets credit), include the amount of the recapture in the total for line 22. To the right of the entry space, write "LIH", "QEV", or "NMC", "recapture", and the amount. For details, see Form 8611, Recapture of Low-Income Housing Credit; Regulations section 1.30-1 (regarding the qualified electric vehicle credit); or Form 8874, New Markets Credit.

Backup withholding. If the association had income tax withheld from any payments it received, because, for example, it failed to give the payer its correct EIN, include this amount in the total for line 23g. This type of withholding is called "Backup Withholding." Show the amount withheld in the blank space in the right-hand column between lines 22 and 23g, and write "Backup Withholding."
