Instructions for Taxpayer

Purpose of Form

A third party completes the affidavit on Schedule A (Form 8836) to show that you and your qualifying child lived together in the United States for part or all of 2004. Attach Schedule A to Form 8836, Qualifying Children Residency Statement. See Form 8836 for more details.

Who Is a Third Party?

A third party is anyone whose relationship to you or your child is listed on page 1 of Schedule A and who has records that show, or who personally knows, that you and your qualifying child lived together for part or all of 2004. A third party does not include you, your spouse, your dependent, your qualifying child (for the earned income credit), or a parent of that qualifying child.

How Many Schedules A Do You Need?

You may use as many Schedules A as you need (in combination with copies of records and letters on official letterhead), as long as they show, when taken together, that your child lived with you for more than half of 2004.

Do not use Schedule A if the records or letters you are submitting with Form 8836 already show your child lived with you for more than half the year in 2004. Do not attach Schedules A for children not listed on Form 8836. If we decide that one or both of the children you list on this schedule is not a qualifying child, we will contact you and give you the opportunity to send us information about another child. See Form 8836 for more details.

What Do You Need To Tell the Third Party?

Before giving Schedule A to the third party, complete your name, and your spouse's name (if you are filing a joint return for 2004) at the top of the schedule. You must also enter your social security number, but you can wait until after the third party completes the affidavit.

Ask the third party to completely fill in all applicable entry spaces on the affidavit and sign and date it. If you have more than two children, and the third party has information relating to more than two of your children, be sure to tell the third party the names of the two qualifying children you are claiming on Form 8836.

If the third party does not complete all applicable information, the affidavit may not be accepted.

Instructions for Third Party

The taxpayer has given you this affidavit to verify the period during 2004 that the taxpayer and one or two of his or her children lived together in the United States. If you fill out this affidavit, then you must complete all applicable information on the affidavit based on your records or personal knowledge and sign it under penalties of perjury. After completing and signing the affidavit, return it to the taxpayer. Do not send it to the IRS. Criminal penalties may be imposed for knowingly making a false statement.

Who Is Eligible To Complete Part II?

You are eligible to complete Part II only if your relationship to the taxpayer is listed below. You may not complete the affidavit if you are the taxpayer's spouse, dependent, or qualifying child (for the earned income credit), or you are a parent of that qualifying child.

- Attorney who handled the taxpayer's divorce or child custody case.
- Childcare provider if you are at least age 18 (such as a babysitter or daycare provider).
- Member of the clergy (including a minister, priest, rabbi, or imam).
- Community-based organization official (including an official from the YMCA, YWCA, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boys and Girls Clubs, 4-H, Little League, Police Athletic League, immigrant advocacy groups, neighborhood associations, homeowners and condominium associations, and other nonprofit groups).
- Official of the court or agency that issued a decision or order involving the taxpayer's divorce or custody, support, or placement of the taxpayer's child.
- Employer (such as a personnel official, supervisor, or work leader).
- Health-care provider (including a doctor, nurse practitioner, or clinic official).
- Indian tribal official.
- Landlord or property manager (including a building superintendent, public housing official, or rental agent).
- Law enforcement officer (such as a police officer or parole officer).
- School official (including a teacher, principal, or administrative assistant). A school includes Head Start, pre-K programs, and before or after school care provided by the school.
- Social service agency or other government official (including a social worker, case worker at a public assistance office, or operator of a homeless shelter).

More Than One Period or Address

If the taxpayer and child (or children) lived together at more than one address or during two or more separate periods during 2004, you must either:

- Complete a separate Schedule A for each address and time period, or
- Enter "see attached" on the address line and to the right of the month and day lines and attach a separate statement (which can be typed or written on a plain piece of paper) listing the taxpayer's name and addresses and time periods that the taxpayer and child (or children) lived at each address. You must also sign the attached statement.
