

Getting Your Taxes Done in 2006 — Visiting a Free Tax Preparation Site

The IRS partners with various local and community organizations to provide free tax preparation services to qualified individuals.

The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program offers free tax help to people whose incomes are $38,000 or less. Volunteers sponsored by various organizations receive training to prepare basic tax returns in communities across the country. VITA sites are generally located at community centers, libraries, schools, shopping malls and other convenient locations.

The Tax Counseling for the Elderly program provides free tax help for persons aged 60 or older. Trained volunteers from non-profit organizations provide free tax counseling and basic income tax return preparation for senior citizens. Volunteers are often retired individuals associated with the organizations that receive grants from the IRS.

These sites cannot complete tax returns with casualty losses or gains. They can, however, provide information about casualty loss deductions and can refer you to available sources that can help you complete your casualty loss return. They can also assist you if you have not received your Form W-2's for 2005.

What do you need to bring to an IRS sponsored free tax preparation sites?

When visiting a free tax preparation site you should bring the following items with you (if available):
